

MAXIMIZE YOUR GENEROSITY WITH NAP TAX CREDITS

NextUp is an approved organization under the Neighborhood Assistance Act Tax Credit Program for Education (NAP), administered by the Virginia Department of Education. The NAP program allows individuals and businesses that make a qualified donation to receive up to a 65% credit on Virginia state taxes.

Quick Highlights:

- Tax credit up to 65% applies to the year of the donation and may be carried over for 5 succeeding years.
- Eligible gifts of $500 - $125,000 for individuals; $616 for businesses with no maximum amount.
- Donations of cash, marketable securities, or retirement account distributions qualify. Gifts from donor advised funds do not qualify for tax credits.
- NextUp will facilitate the approval process for you to claim your Virginia tax credits.

NextUp is not qualified to offer personal tax advice. Please consult with your tax professional if you have questions regarding tax implications on making a gift such as this.*

*Please note, NextUp has 40 days from the gift date to submit the NAP Tax credit form and supporting documentation to the VDOE.

Tax credits won't last...don't miss out!

NextUp has a limited number of tax credits. Donors who make qualified gifts are eligible for these benefits on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Unlike a tax deduction, a tax credit reduces a donor's tax bill dollar-for-dollar. Examples to the left demonstrate how the NAP program can benefit taxpayers.

To participate, please make your donation and contact Katie Moore at kmoore@nextuprva.org to receive your tax credit form and start the approval process.
